

Paul J. Noah, General Counsel,
RDO Equipment

Paul Noah currently serves as General Counsel to R.D. Offutt Company and RDO Equipment Co. He provides legal and management support for the Offutt Companies. His relationship with the Offutt Companies started July 1, 1998, as an attorney for Ag Capital Company, an affiliated company, before transitioning into his current position.

Paul grew up in Fargo, received his undergraduate degree from Brown University, Providence, RI and worked for Chandler Development Company, Newton, MA in commercial real estate development for several years prior to returning to attend law school at University of North Dakota. Paul then served as a law clerk for U.S. District Chief Judge Rodney Webb before joining the Vogel Law Firm in Fargo where he was a partner prior joining the Offutt Companies in 1998.

He is married and has three children.