

2018 International Legislators Forum

Biography

Hanna Abou-El-Seoud

Washington Trade Representative
American Soybean Association

habou@gordley.com

Hanna is a Government Affairs Representative with Gordley Associates who works on trade policy, international biotechnology, and food security on behalf of agriculture related clients including the American Soybean Association and the U.S. Soybean Export Council. Hanna joined Gordley Associates in 2015, prior to which she spent four years with the Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry Ranking Member Debbie Stabenow, where she focused on global food security, international food aid, conservation and forestry. Prior to her tenure with the Committee, Abou-El-Seoud worked in the office of Sen. Carl Levin, as well as in the Washington, D.C. office of Trout Unlimited.

A Michigan native, Abou-El-Seoud holds a bachelor's degree in international relations with a focus on science, technology and environmental public policy from Michigan State University and a Master of Policy Management from Georgetown University's McCourt School of Public Policy